

Assignment 1

A written analytical reflection on own educational journey

- Submission date: 5th November 2021
- 1500 words $\pm 10\%$
- Weighting: 20%

A written analytical reflection on own educational journey

Assignment brief

Within this assessment you must illustrate the following learning outcomes:

LO1: Examine how subjectivity and selfhood are profoundly influenced by educational processes

Reflect on your educational experience by describing key milestones in your education, and examining how they impacted on you to make you the person you are. Some questions you might consider are:

- How did your education transmit cultural norms?
- How did your education reflect your family's social position?
- How was your education influenced by prevailing social or political events?
- How has your education informed your values and world view?

Preparing for the assignment

- Highlight the key significant milestones in your educational journey
- How would you describe them concisely?
- Why are they important?
- How were they shaped by the factors mentioned on the previous slide?
- Use the theories and readings we have covered so far to shape your analysis of your educational journey.
- You do not need to reference your own personal details, but you do need to support your analysis with the use of academic references,
- You also need to reference any particular political or social information you include

Read my article Playing on the Boundaries. It will give you a sense of how a biographical analytical account is structured.

Submission

Hand-in is via Turnitin on 5th November by 11pm

You can submit earlier!

Late submission (up to 10 working days) will lead to a capped grade of 50% unless there is approval of extenuating circumstances.

Submission after the 10 working days will lead to a failure unless there is approval of extenuating circumstances.